

WHAT IS THE VALUE OF YOUR LIFE?

Paul Baker

As we look around our world today there is no limit to the immodesty and sexual immorality you will see. Setting aside the near nudity; folks are so messed up, that they don't even know if they are a man or a woman anymore; but they will fight tooth and nail to defend their confusion and their desire for everyone to submit to their form of perversion.

There are those that would go to battle with anyone who would dare say that an unborn child has the right to life, and that a mother should not be able to murder them at her leisure. They proclaim proudly, that they abort children, and enjoy doing it.

The women in America, have coveted the role/position of the man to the point that there are not hardly any women left, to carry on the beautiful, precious, God-given, job of a nurturing Mother. They have devoted their lives to making sure they have no association at all to being a keeper of the home; robbing and depriving countless children, of the irreplaceable care/love of a mother; and allowing perfect strangers to raise their children, or even the local gov't, the schools; raising them up with the morals of sodomite. They give up so much in pursuit of a role that does not belong to them.

Our country has a day of worship to the earth; April 22 every year. This began in 1970. For many, their entire lives are devoted to this. It determines what kind of car they drive, how their home is built, what they eat, it is amazing what the climate activists will do for what they think is man-made climate change.

All of the things I have mentioned are Idols. Idols that many now worship with great devotion. Of course, none of them come anywhere close to our actual purpose on this earth is. They have a void in their house and have filled it with vessels of wood and earth, that have no value. They know that there is something missing in life, and this is how they fill the void. They have no compass in this life, and they are wondering about in the darkness as blind leading the blind.

What I see with so many of these people, are souls that need purpose. True purpose. Not all of this idol worship (and that is what it is). If only their devotion and zeal were aimed at God. What amazing Christians they could be. They want meaning in life, but many don't know where to find it. They look to money, power, notoriety, fame, and so on; to give them purpose. They want to be remembered for something.

Hebrews 11 we see that by faith, those men of old, obtained a good report. Able (of the first family to exist) still speaks to us, by his obedience. He is remembered for his submission to God. Likewise, Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Sarah, Joseph, Parents of Moses, Moses, Rahab, all remembered for thousands of years. All remembered for their submission to the Lord. If you want recognition for your labors, seek it from the one who is eternal. The one True God, who will never forget you and your works on this earth (good or bad).

(Proposition) If we want purpose in this life, where else would we look but to our Creator, Savior, and King. If we want to know why we are here and what we need to be doing, logically he would be the only source of that knowledge. Many don't know what to do or why they are here, because they have never read from the Holy Scriptures. It is like wondering why you can't make a cake, when you have never read the recipe. What does the word of God say?
